

Before the no call act we were getting 10 to 20 calls a day from telemarketers. It's annoying , especially when you get the ones that hang up because they're trying to find out what hours your home. Thanks, Chris